FEDERAL SLEUTHS BREAKS INTO "OPIUM RING"

KNOX HERE DAY AND HALF

Party Arrives at Daylight Tomorrow, Leaving Friday Afternoon for Yokohama

PROGRAM FOR VISIT OF SECRETARY KNOX

Party arrives on U. S. S. Maryland at daylight tomorrow. Officer docks at Navy wharf about 8 o'clock. Morning devoted to interchange of official visits. Reception in afternoon at home of Governor Frazier. On Friday morning, auto trip around island. Maryland sails for Yokohama some time Friday afternoon.

Secretary of State Knox, aboard the U. S. S. Maryland, will arrive in Honolulu harbor early tomorrow morning, remaining here until Friday afternoon. The program for the entertainment of the official party, as tentatively arranged, is virtually complete, covering the entire period of the visit, and is in keeping with the occasion, which is generally regarded as the greatest event of its kind since Hawaii became a Territory of the United States.

Governor Frazier received a wireless message early this morning from Secretary Knox, sent out by the wireless operator of the Maryland through the United States Naval Wireless Service, in reply to the query wireless to the vessel yesterday. The Secretary's answer reads as follows:

"Thanks for your cordial message. We expect to arrive Thursday morning, leave Friday afternoon. Party consists of Mrs. Knox and self, Mr. Miller and Admiral Reynolds."

The "Mr. Miller" mentioned is Randolph S. Miller, chief of the Division of Far Eastern Affairs, who is accompanying Secretary Knox to the funeral ceremonies in Japan.

The program as briefly outlined in a message sent to Secretary Knox by wireless this morning for his approval, may undergo some slight change in detail at his request, but in general it probably will be as follows:

CUSTOMS MEN TAKE 2; SAY IN OPIUM RING

Sensational Arrests Made Just Before Mongolia Sails for San Francisco

LOCAL MAN AND OFFICER OF SHIP APPREHENDED

Satchel Filled with Opium Is Seized; Joe Leal Figures; Said to Be Informer

In an effort to break through the secrecy which has surrounded the "opium ring" in Honolulu, U. S. District Attorney Breckons is this afternoon putting the two alleged smugglers arrested this morning through as severe a "third degree" as he can administer.

George Chrones and Chris Corageorge, the two men arrested today, and Joe Leal, former chief of detectives, have been before the Federal authorities practically all the time since the arrests were made at the sailing of the Mongolia this morning. This afternoon Corageorge was turned over to the United States marshal, and Breckons closed himself with Leal and Chrones and the probe began. A report went out that some "squealing" had been done, and it is said there was immediate discomfort in several quarters.

Earlier in the day Chrones and Corageorge were held in the office of Collector of Customs Stackable while Stackable and Breckons plied them with questions.

One of the stories out is to the effect that Corageorge is the man the Federal authorities are after as one of the "opium ring" and that Leal and Chrones are contributing to the case against him. Breckons and Stackable, however, deny that Leal is in the employ of the Federal government.

George Chrones, formerly in the employ of the Union Grill, and Chris Corageorge, fourth assistant engineer on the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia, were arrested at Alakea wharf this morning by customs officers charged with attempting to smuggle opium ashore. Chrones, when arrested, carried a valise containing twenty tins of opium worth approximately one thousand dollars.

The arrest was made at a time when hundreds of persons were at the wharf to attend the steamer sailing, but was known to but a few of the many bystanders.

With the detection of the alleged smugglers, the authorities believe

SEC. WILSON MAY STOP FRUITS

Proclamation Held Up Pending Protests and Visit of Dr. Marlatt

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today announced that he will declare a quarantine upon the Territory of Hawaii, under the new Federal plant law, because of the presence of the Mediterranean fruit fly in the islands.

The secretary announces also that he will give public hearings and receive arguments in writing if any protests are to be made against his ruling. The protests will be received up to September 16, after which his proclamation is to be issued, to take effect at once.

Dr. C. L. Marlatt, First Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, and the man who will be directly in charge of the enforcement of the new law giving the Federal Government control of all horticultural quarantine, arrived on the Lurline this morning, just a few moments before the disquieting cable regarding Secretary Wilson's intentions was received. Dr. Marlatt, when informed of the contents of the message, was most reassuring.

"The Federal quarantine will make no changes in existing conditions," he said. "There will be no quarantine against pineapples or bananas, but we will, of course, see that they are properly inspected. The quarantine conditions will probably remain as they are now under the rules enforced at the port of San Francisco. Of course I have just arrived and have not had time to look over the ground, but I see no reason for radical action as far as I can judge from reports, and I feel sure any recommendations I may make as to the quarantine of Hawaiian products will be thoroughly considered."

Dr. Marlatt is accompanied by Mrs. Marlatt, and Miss Florence and Virginia Marlatt. He expects to be here about two weeks, he said, looking over the field. "The representative of the Department of Agriculture who will be permanently stationed here in charge of the fruit fly campaign is Dr. Beck, who will arrive here tomorrow," said Dr. Marlatt.

DUKE KAHANAMOKU LIONIZED BY SMART SET

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 18.—"Duke" Kahanamoku, the daring Hawaiian swimmer who covered himself with laurels at the Stockholm Olympiad, has been feted by the fashionable set at this resort of the elite.

Invitations to teas, dinners and lawn parties have been showered upon the good-looking kanaka athlete, whose quiet, well-bred manners have made an impression on the millionaire shore colony second only to his marvelous skill in the water.

Kahanamoku looks forward with great expectation to his home-coming at Honolulu. The eastern newspapers print in prominent display the arrangements being made to receive him when he reaches the lovely isles of the Pacific, whose fame as the nurturing spot of healthy athletes of championship prowess has carried around the globe.

The hold of the steamship Pleiades, ashore near Magdalena lay contains several tons of dynamite. If the weather gets bad the boat may be blown up before she can be floated.

COSTS MOTHER-IN-LAW $5 TO PULL HAIR OF SON'S WIFE

Mrs. Kakai Accused of Being Trouble-Maker, Beats Her Daughter-in-Law

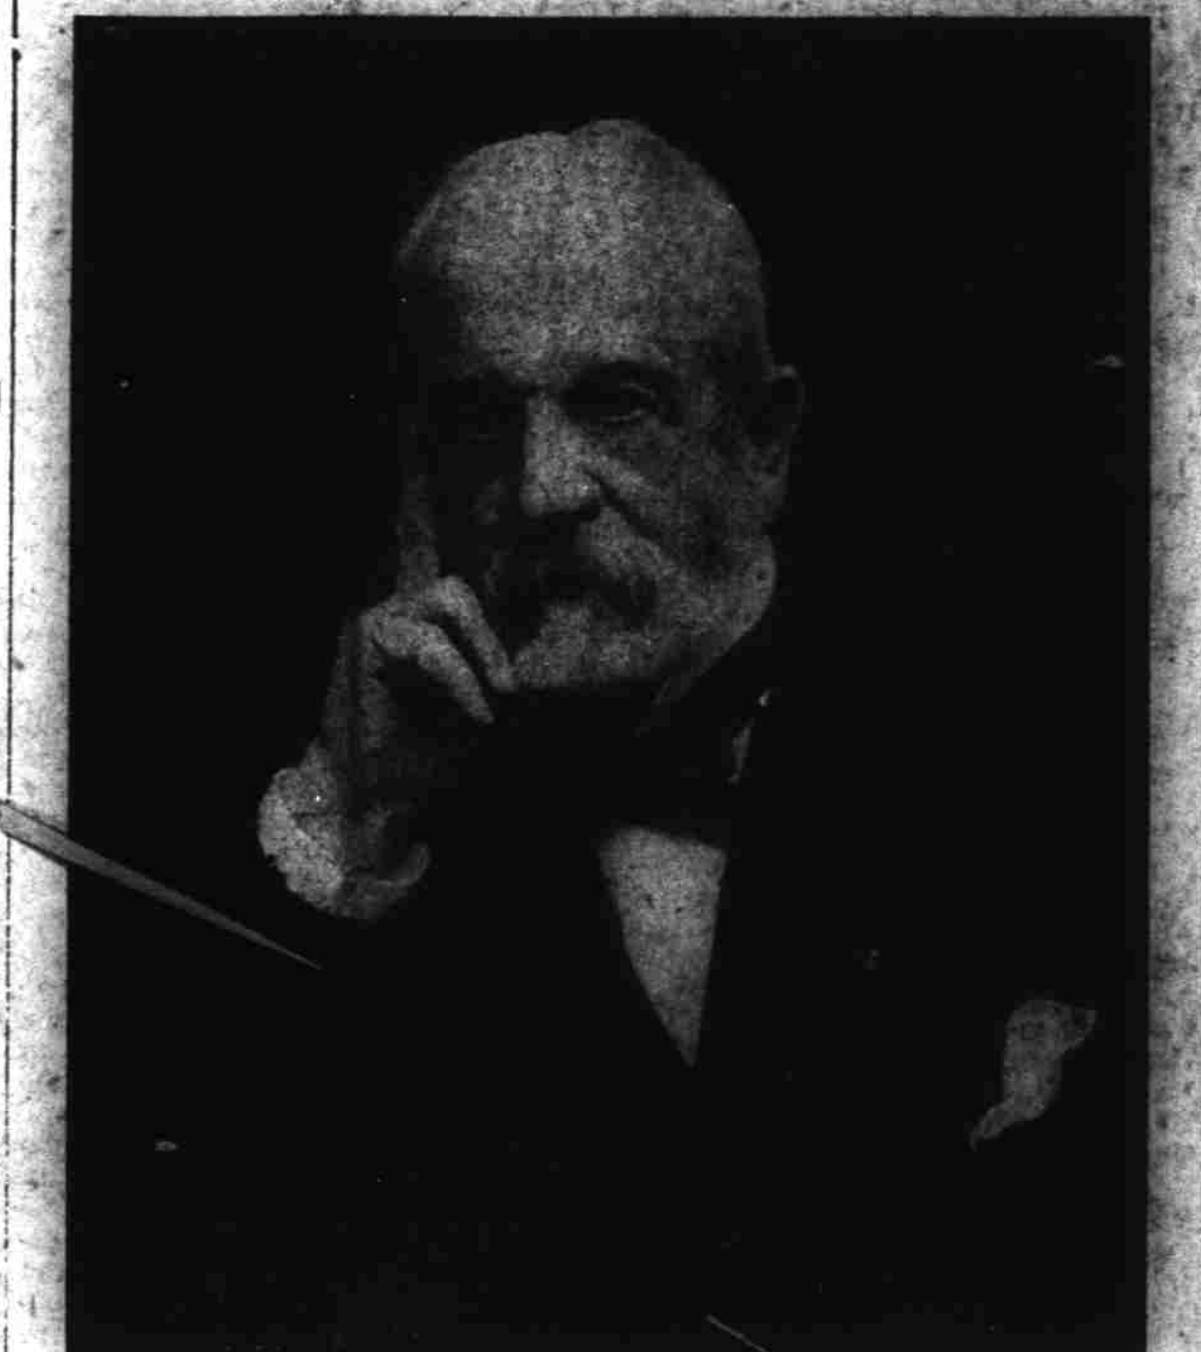

The old story of the mother-in-law in the house and the resulting friction between other members of the family was repeated in the police court this morning and terminated in Mrs. Kelupaina Kakai being fined five dollars and costs for assault and battery upon her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rose Bailey.

According to the evidence, Mrs. Kelupaina invited herself to make her residence with her son, H. K. Bailey, at Pauoa and quarrels ensued between son, wife and mother-in-law. According to Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Kakai attempted to stir up trouble between Bailey and his wife.

According to the evidence, on Monday afternoon Mrs. Bailey, who was lying on the bed at the time, began to upbraid her mother-in-law for her efforts in this direction, and Mrs. Kakai, becoming incensed, seized her daughter-in-law by the hair and dragged her to the floor. Mrs. Bailey swore out a warrant for her mother-in-law, charging assault and battery which resulted in Mrs. Kakai's trial and conviction this morning.

General A. S. Hartwell, Seriously Ill At Home

GENERAL A. S. HARTWELL

Claudine Dispatched to Hawaii to Bring Children to the Bed-side of the Former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Veteran Officer of the Civil War

General A. S. Hartwell, former justice of the Supreme Court, is seriously ill at his home, Lihua and Judge Streets, and his condition is such that his immediate relatives here this morning chartered the steamer Claudine to proceed to Kawaihae, Island of Hawaii, and bring to Honolulu Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Sorenson and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carter, Mrs. Sorenson and Mrs. Carter being the daughters of Judge Hartwell. They have been

Mrs. A. F. Judd, another daughter, and her husband, are the only relatives at the bedside of the sick man at the present time.

Dr. C. B. Wood, the physician in attendance, said this morning: "General Hartwell is seriously ill, but he is resting easily today."

Early this afternoon, Attorney A. F. Judd, son-in-law of Judge Hartwell, said that the condition of his father-in-law had shown a slight improvement during the day. "His illness," he said, "is due to a general breakdown. As he is 76 years old we thought it advisable to send for his other children, who are expected to reach here tomorrow."

Judge Hartwell resigned from the Territorial bench last year, his resignation taking effect on March 9, 1911. Previous to this his health had been impaired by advancing age and his close application to work, and he had made a trip to the mainland in the hopes of benefiting from it. He returned considerably improved, but decided to retire from the bench and did so. Since then he has made several journeys to the mainland, and returned from one of these trips only a few days ago.

The news that the venerable jurist had been seriously stricken and that his condition was grave was received last night with general regret and solicitude, which was heightened this morning when it became known that relatives had been sent for from Hawaii.

INSURRECTION OF '95 CLAIMS BEFORE HAGUE

British Consul Instructed to Secure Data as to Claimants' Heirs

That the so-called "British claims" arising out of the insurrection against the Republic of Hawaii in 1895 are approaching a hearing before The Hague Tribunal, to which it was reported some time ago, they had been referred by the United States and Great Britain, is made evident through the instructions received by Thomas Harrington, acting British consul here, within the last few days, to bring all the data relating to the claims up to date.

Resisted by the Republic of Hawaii to the last, the claims were part of unfinished business passed on to the United States at annexation.

Within the past few days it has been rumored that Acting Consul Harrington was looking up information regarding the heirs of such claimants as are dead. Mr. Harrington, on being questioned about the matter, admitted what has just been stated and more. He said:

"I have been instructed to bring all the data relating to the claims up to date. Having been here but a short time, I am not posted in the history of the matter. I do not know even that it has been submitted to arbitration, and I am simply carrying out instructions to gather all available information up to the present time, with

KNOX'S NAME INVOLVED IN FUND EXPOSE

Secretary of State Is Brought Into Sensational Standard Oil-Roosevelt Charges

The storm center of the Standard Oil-Roosevelt campaign contribution fight is moving toward Hawaii.

Secretary of State Knox, who will arrive on the cruiser Maryland tomorrow, has been dragged into the fight by a report from Washington that he is alleged to have said that Roosevelt wrote letters to George B. Cortelyou telling him to return $100,000 of the Standard Oil contribution to "make the record good."

The first news received here of the Cortelyou-Roosevelt correspondence did not involve Mr. Knox. This was in a cablegram which came by Associated Press on August 22, and which said:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Senator Penrose in a statement today charged boldly that Roosevelt in the campaign of 1904 directed George B. Cortelyou, manager of his campaign, to return $100,000 of his contribution to the Standard Oil Company. Penrose says that Roosevelt had to do this in order to 'make the record good.'"

"John D. Archbold has notified Congress that he is willing to testify to what he knows of the relations of Standard Oil to the Republican campaign."

Now the Associated Press, in a cablegram to its local correspondent,

Murder of Americans Rouses State And War Departments--Tenth Infantry Rushed From Panama To Managua In 48 Hours

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—The Tenth Infantry has been ordered to Nicaragua because of the gravity of the situation there. The Tenth Infantry goes from Panama and will arrive at the scene of trouble in forty-eight hours. The State Department has been advised that the atrocities in Nicaragua caused by the revolution are worse than the cruel practices in China at the time of the Boxer revolution. Two wounded Americans have been officially reported as murdered. The Nicaraguan government is plainly unable to protect American citizen and property, and the action of the United States is the result.

Great Britain Insists Must Change Canal Bill

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]

C., Aug. 28.—Great Britain today reaffirmed her vigorous protests against the Panama Canal bill in its present form, which, it is maintained, is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. If unable to negotiate a change, declares Great Britain in representations made to the State Department today, an appeal will be made to The Hague Tribunal.

MUST ASK U. S. FOR PERMISSION TO BUILD DOCK

Notified by Maj. W. B. Wooten that the proposed floating drydock which the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. desires to construct between the Hackfeld wharf and the Queen street bulkhead can not be built unless the Secretary of War approves, because it comes within the harbor lines approved by the War Department, the board of harbor commissioners this afternoon passed a resolution asking the Governor to communicate with the Secretary of War, through the proper authorities, to obtain his consent to the project.

The resolution declares that the proposed floating drydock will in no way affect navigation in the harbor and that it is a feature of much importance to the shipping interests of the Territory. The proposed drydock would be 270 feet in length.

The harbor commission also decided today to extend the Oceanic wharf 75 feet, at the same time straightening the line of the Port street bulkhead on one side of the wharf.

Castle & Cooke, in a communication to the commission read at the meeting, offered the tug Intrepid as a fireboat to be used in the harbor. They state that the vessel has a high-powered engine and is capable of handling five streams, two to be two and one-half inches and three to be one and one-half inches in diameter. They say the tug would be placed at the Territory's disposal in case of fire at any time of day or night, and ask, in return that the tug be given the privilege of free wharfage and free water. As the tug would continue in service as a commercial boat, working for the company when not in use at fire, some doubt is expressed as to whether it would always be at hand when needed to fight conflagrations. The offer is to receive further consideration, however.

KEAWE EXPLAINS WHY HE TOOK SANG'S PUP

Resenting the purport of an article appearing in a morning paper under the caption, "Sang's Pup Disappears in Height of Luau Season," John Keawe called at the Star-Bulletin office this morning and made the statement that he openly and without secrecy or in any sneaking manner did possess himself of the pup in question.

Keawe says the pup was taken while Mrs. Sang was present, and because Sang had not lived up to an agreement concerning the pup which had been entered into verbally by Sang and Keawe.
